

Presales Sharepoint Specialist

Function Description

In order to expand Aprico Consultants' service offerings, we are looking for an experienced Microsoft specialist who will act as a Solutions Architect and Pre-Sales Consultant in close cooperation with the sales force and Business Line Manager. This specialist will also present a number of Microsoft-based solutions to prospective customers.

Responsibilities

- Depending on your specific assignments, your responsibilities will include:
- Designing and promoting Sharepoint architectures
- Providing guidance on Sharepoint implementations (best practices, patterns, pitfalls to avoid...)
- Providing the Microsoft Sharepoint team with day-to-day operational direction, leadership and design skills.
- Preparing and making demonstrations, proof-of-concepts (PoC) and presentations to clients

Communication Skills

We are looking for a professional with good customer skills who, as an experienced consultant, feels at ease making presentations and demos.

Proficient skills in Dutch (spoken), French (spoken), and English (spoken and written) are expected.

Technical Skills & Experience

The ideal candidate must have very a strong Solutions Architecture background and design skills. Along with a strong presentation background and good customer-facing skills, the candidate will have extensive knowledge of architecture and design infrastructure associated with other Microsoft products.

Personal Skills

As a consultant, the candidate should be able to work independently and follow project priorities and deadlines. He/she closely follows project procedures (check-in, check-out, time sheet reporting, punctuality) and will adhere to the rules, standards and guidelines defined in the architecture.
